Seabees, members of a Naval Construction Battalion, completed the Guadalcanal Division of the "G., B. & T." (Guadalcanal, Bougainville & Tokyo) Railroad in three days. Daly City Fire Department To Take Over As Host At Servicemen's Club Next Week

The Daly City Fire department will take over as hosts at the Daly City Servicemen's club, 6201 Mission street, Sunday, January 9, through Saturday, January 15. Their week will be climaxed with a Saturday night social.

This week, hostess organization is Hillcrest Circle No. 143, U. A. O. D. That group, too, will provide a Saturday social for the boys, January 8.

Attendance continues heavy at the center, which has proved increasingly popular with the soldiers stationed in the Daly City area, as well as servicemen from other nearby locations.

The New Year's eve party is reported to have been a big success. Horns, caps, and delicious refreshments added to the hilarity of the evening.

The City of Daly City, this week, donated $50 to the center for its use in "making things pleasant for the boys."

Repetitious, Yes But Necessary, See!

Sure it's repetitious!

But enough volunteers haven't put in an appearance yet to meet the American Red Cross' demand for more and more bandages from the Daly City workroom. Mrs. Ruth Morris, in charge of the surgical dressings part of the program, announces that a quota of 5,000 bandages has been assigned this city for January. This is nearly double the usual demand.

And the volunteers, has their number doubled? Well, no. That's why at the expense of being repetitious The Record announces once again that volunteer workers, patriotic local women with two hours or two days to give each week, are badly needed at the local workroom above the Daly City theatre.

The workroom is open every Wednesday and Friday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The Case Of The Stolen Calf And Other Tales From The Crowded Police Blotter

Police news ranged from a stolen calf to tavern brawls, this week, with officers giving their attention to the following incidents:

Friday, December 31, at 1:30 p. m. the daughter of Sam Perasso, 99 Bellevue avenue, reported that someone had broken into her father's barn at the above address and stolen a 5 weeks old black and white calf. The lock had been broken and the rope with which the calf was tied was cut. The calf had last been seen about 5 p. m., December 30.

December 31 at 10 p. m. officers responded to a call at Signal Coffee shop, 6298 Mission street, where sailors had broken a window on the Hillcrest drive side.. The sailors were taken into custody by the Shore Patrol.

December 31 at 8:10 p. m., Sergeant Ricco Benedetti and Officer August Benassini, investigated an accident at Hillside boulevard and Vista Grande avenue which involved property damage and personal injury. Jerome Brandi, 803 Commercial street, San Francisco, and Stanley S. Schmidt, Lovchen Gardens, Colma, were the drivers of the two cars. Mrs. Kate Brandi, 475 Paris street, mother of Brandi, was injured and had to be rushed to the Alemany emergency hospital in the Company No. 1, D. C. F. D., truck.

January 1, 10:08 a. m., police received a report that the Ford sedan belonging to Leonard English, 376 Winchester street, was

Here's Chance To See Work Of Jr. Red Cross

McGraw Brothers pharmacy, 6300 Mission street, has made window space available to display the work of the Daly City Junior Red Cross. Sample articles, denoting the type of product the youngsters are turning out, include bedside bags for toilet articles, knot boards for the rehabilitation program, ditty bags, a book truck, cribbage boards, sewing kits.

R. L. Crane jr., district superintendent of schools, who supervises the Junior Red Cross program here, invites the public to take this occasion to note the work the youngsters are doing in war service.

The local group concentrates on turning out articles for the convenience of wounded servicemen.

Promote Grant Smith To Captain

Pilot Grant Smith has just advised his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Smith, 258 Templeton avenue, that it's now Captain Smith. Further good news was in store for them when he reported that in all probability he will be home the latter part of January.

Captain Smith was awarded the Air Medal at the time of his promotion and is in line for the Three Oak Leaf Cluster and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Smith has had several narrow escapes in the South Pacific, once when he was shot down in the midst of a jungle, again in a dogfight against Jap Zeros over Munda.

Clerk Issues Reminder To 3-As

Mrs. Isabelle Flynn, chief clerk at Daly City Draft Board No. 103, reminded those men with 3-A classifications that they should have their employers immediately file form 42-A requesting occupational deferment for them. All 3-A men are currently being reclassified by the local board and if there is reason for their occupational deferment it should be available for consideration at once.

As soon as the reclassification of 3-A men is completed, the local board will review all 2-C men, single men doing essential agricultural work.

On Tuesday, January 11, Board No. 103 has a quota of forty men to supply to the armed forces. A pre-induction meeting will be held at the board office, second floor, city hall, Monday, January 10.

Here's Where Lost Ration Books Go!

Hundreds of lost ration books dropped in the mails by the finders are being sent to the dead letter office every month because the owners failed to fill in their addresses on the cover, the Office of Price Administration said today.

Because of lack of addresses or incorrect addresses, more than 800 lost books could not be forwarded to their owners by the Post Office department in the last two months. Instead these books had to be sent to the dead letter office, with the result that applications for new books had to be made at local War Price and Rationing boards.

Through the cooperation of the Post Office authorities, lost ration books deposited in the mails are forwarded directly to the owners whenever they can be located. When no address or an incorrect one is on a book, however, it has to be sent to the dead letter office, although every effort is made to trace the address of the ration book owner.

A check by OPA of ration books recently received at the dead letter office showed that of 368 copies of War Ration Book Three, 93 per cent could not be returned to the owners because

NEWS OF OUR MEN and WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Winding up a year of peak production of aerial navigators, Selman field, Monroe, Louisiana, sent its last class of 1943 into combat, December 24, when hundreds of student officers, aviation cadets and aviation students were presented their wings and commissions.

Graduates of the 18 week course came from 36 states and the District of Columbia, and will soon join their combat-bound crews for duty overseas in all theatres of the war.

Among the graduates was one man from this area: Flight Officer Harry C. Curusis, 132 Bruno avenue, Daly City. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Curusis.

A letter dated July 19, 1943, reached Mr. and Mrs. Marco Cavallero, formerly of Daly City, New Year's Day from their son, Raymond Cavallero, a prisoner in Japan.

"I'd be the happiest man in the world if I could get a letter from you," Cavallero wrote his parents. His mother said that they had sent many letters since first hearing of his capture the early part of last year. An electrician's mate, first class, in the U. S. Navy, Cavallero was a survivor when a minesweeper on which he was working was sunk in Philippine waters by the Japanese. Later, he was captured with the rest of the men when Corregidor fell.

He explained in his letter that the prisoners are allowed to write out only three times a year. He is now in a camp at Osaka, Japan. Although large parts of his letter had been snipped out by the censor's shears, his family learned that he is in good health so far, that he was working for a few yen a day with which to buy cigarettes and candy, and that, naturally, he'll be more than happy to get home.

Cavallero attended Jefferson Union high school before joining the Navy. He enlisted, September 6, 1940, and saw action in Honolulu. He was later transferred to the Cavite base.

Before their recent move to San Francisco the family resided at 63 Risel avenue.

In training at the preflight school of the San Antonio Aviation Cadet center, Texas, are 294 men from California, including one from Daly City.

The future pilots receive nine weeks of instruction at the center, learning the fundamentals necessary for actual flight training in primary, basic and advanced schools. They are prepared physically and mentally to attain their common goal, the silver wings of Army Air Forces pilots.

The preflight cadets include Aviation Cadet Louis C. F. Silvas, 27 Hillcrest drive.

Mel Hanson sent The Record a letter telling of a Christmas reunion he had with Clarence Parr at Davisville, Rhode Island. The following paragraphs are self-explanatory:

"I was mighty blue December 24 thinking of the things that I had done in the past years, and more or less feeling sorry for my-

War Council Will Meet Tonight

Daly City's Civilian War Council will meet tonight, January 6, at the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue. Arthur J. Bodien, director, will call the session to order at 8 p. m.

Principal matter to be discussed by the group will be the resolution which would put Daly City volunteers in line to receive compensation if injured in the line of duty.

Personnel of the Civilian War Council includes Bodien, Harry Melicker, R. L. Crane jr., Fire Chief Andrew P. Chesney, Police Chief James G. Reardon, Fred Collins, Mayor A. J. Gaggero, and Councilmen Edmund Cavagnaro, Eugene V. Lynch, John J. Fahey sr., Howard McHugh,

New Term Opens Monday, February 7

The new term at the Jefferson Elementary School district will open Monday, February 7, according to R. L. Crane jr., superintendent of schools. In order to be enrolled in the first grade a child must be 5 years and 9 months of age or older. If the child has not previously entered kindergarten in the local district, a birth certificate must be supplied to school authorities.

Kindergarten youngsters are required to be 4 years and 9 months of age at least and they, too, must have birth certificates with them on the day of enrollment.

Local parents are advised to take beginners to the school nearest their home for enrollment.

DON'T TAKE LESS

Motorists who have the new type B and C gasoline coupons good for 5 gallons of gasoline were advised by the San Francisco District Office of Price Administration to refuse to accept less than value of the coupons.

Dorothy Maynor In S. F. Concert On January 13

A famous Negro soprano whose spectacular rise in the concert world has been one of the most talked of events in recent years, comes to the War Memorial Opera house, Thursday evening, January 13. She appears under the management of the Opera association.

A few years ago, Dorothy Maynor was virtually unknown. Today, critics agree that she is one of the greatest of living artists.

Daughter of a Norfolk, Virginia minister, she received her first musical training in her father's church. Later, she attended Hampton institute and subsequently, Westminister Choir school. Her discovery, however, is credited to Serge Koussevitzky. She has appeared as a guest artist with practically all of the outstanding symphony orchestras in this country.

Yet, it is only a little over two years ago that Miss Maynor, then an unknown singer, went to listen to music conducted by the famous Koussevitzky of the Boston Symphony orchestra at the Berkshire festival, and ended by making music herself for the great conductor. When she made a surprise audition for him, he recognized at once the great voice and artistry of the young singer, and invited her to make an appearance before the members of his orchestra at their annual picnic. After an impromptu concert that ranged from opera arias to spirituals, critics who were present vied with each other for superlatives. Since that time, many cities have been competing for a place on Miss Maynor's first cross-country tours. Although she made several symphony appearances and sang a number of concerts, Miss Maynor spent a good part of her first season in study and preparation of repertoire. Her instinctive skill in interpretative expression is the gift of a born artist. But apart from possessing one of the loveliest soprano voices in the world today, two priceless and rare attributes are her winning modesty and her sincerity of purpose in everything she says and does.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the Opera box office, Sherman, Clay and company, EXbrook 8585.

COURT SALESIAN

Court Salesian, Catholic Daughters of America, will make definite plans at its business meeting, Thursday, January 13, for the annual "secret pal" party.

THRIFTY

FORMULA FOR INDIVIDUALITY, developed by CBS actress Audrey ("Stage Door Canteen") Totter, is based on a simple coordination of colors. Audrey makes all her own hats and models a neat black straw sailor trimmed with gold grosgrain ribbon, picking up the blended colors of the coin dots in her border-printed linen dress. One becoming hat may be accessorized, by interchangeable bands, to complement various costumes.

EVERYBODY EVERY PAYDAY 10%

"Every dime and dollar not vitally needed for absolute necessities should go into WAR BONDS and STAMPS to add to the striking power of our armed forces." —FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States.

Labor Board Issues Call For Hundreds Of Boys For Yard

A January call for hundreds of youths to receive 27-month paid apprenticeships at the Mare Island Navy yard has been announced by the Labor board. An apprentice may select the mechanical trade of his choice—as blacksmith, boat-builder, boilermaker, coppersmith, electrician, joiner, machinist, molder, painter, patternmaker, pipefitter, rigger, sailmaker, sheetmetal worker, shipfitter or as shipwright.

A young man 16 years of age can complete his high school education and a trade apprenticeship and become a journeyman mechanic before he is 19 years old under the present apprenticeship system.

Upon completion of the apprenticeship a regular Navy department certificate of apprenticeship and in addition, a high school diploma is granted. In actuality, these young men will be transferring to the Mare Island school for this vocational and high school training. One week out of every five is devoted to high school work. The apprentice's hours of school attendance at Mare Island include trade mathematics, mechanical drawing, trade science, English, U. S. history, civics and trade theory. All teachers are certified as high school teachers and the curriculum is equivalent to the best high school standards.

Applicants must reach their sixteenth birthday by date of appointment. Young men between 17 and 22 years, provided they are not subject to induction in the armed forces may be accepted. Those who are in 4-F classification but physically able to perform the duties may apply. The maximum age limit in all cases is 22 years.

Apprentices are paid $4.64 per day to start. A pay increase of 96 cents per day is granted upon completion of each class of the apprenticeship. During the last class of the course, youths receive $7.52 per day.

As the Navy yard is working on a 48-hour work week basis, apprentices complete the required 5448 total hours in approximately 27 months, and in this time will have earned $4,613.11 in wages. Of this amount $1,127.70 is earned while attending school.

Necessary forms may be obtained from the Labor Board, Mare Island Navy yard, Vallejo, California; the U. S. Civil Service Regional office, Federal building, San Francisco; or at any first or second class post office. A WMC work clearance certificate is not required from apprentice applicants.

MANY cakes demand frosting. Of course they are edible without it, but a good rich chocolate frosting adds so much that it seems to be an absolute necessity. Here's a frosting that fits right into war times and right on top of your favorite layer or cup cake.

Quick Chocolate Frosting

2 squares unsweetened chocolate; 1 can (14 or 15 ounces) sweetened condensed milk; 1 tablespoon water; dash of salt; ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add condensed milk gradually, mixing well; then add water and salt and blend. Cook 5 minutes over rapidly boiling water, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Add vanilla. Cool. Makes 1½ cups frosting, or enough to cover tops of two 9-inch layers, two 8-inch layers (generously), or top and sides of 8 x 8 x 2-inch cake. Or enough to cover tops of 2 dozen medium cup cakes.

ELECTRICITY gives her the strength of 90 HORSES

LESS THAN A YEAR AGO her hands had operated no machine more powerful than a home vacuum cleaner. Now she, and 350,000 other California women, active, keen and alert, are doing man-sized jobs in the war plants.

Huge cranes, operated entirely by women, hoist heavy gun barrels and gun mounts, womens' hands run drill and punch presses, pull levers, press buttons in scores of noisy, war-busy manufacturing plants.

Electricity is the power for their work and with amazing aptitude these 350,000 women are operating intricate machines as easily as they run their home washing machine or kitchen mixer.

When this war ends, electricity will again work for these women in their homes. It will again do the work of housekeeping by means of cheap and easy-to-use electric appliances.

We salute California's women war workers. They are hastening the Day when Victory and Unconditional Surrender bring Peace to the World.

"PHANTOM OF THE OPERA" HERE

"Phantom of the Opera" comes tonight to the Daly City theatre. The long-anticipated production, heralded as Hollywood's super thrill-classic, is said to have been filmed on a lavish scale and is listed as one of the year's outstanding movie projects. Photographed in Technicolor and featuring a cast of thousands, the picture has attracted record-breaking crowds at its premiere showings. It looms as one of the most successful attractions yet made by Universal studios.

Nelson Eddy, Susanna Foster and Claude Rains are co-starred. Distinguished players in the huge supporting cast include Edgar Barrier, Leo Carrillo, Jane Farrar, J. Edward Bromberg, Fritz Feld and Hume Cronyn.

The Gaston Leroux composition, on which the story is based, is regarded as extraordinary screen material, combining as it does romance, mystery, music and an element of dramatic terror unique in literature. The magnificent Paris opera, complete in every ornate detail, was reproduced by Universal for the film and serves as a background for the spectacular melodramatic sequences.

Eddy and Miss Foster appear as opera singers and Rains has the title role of the "Phantom," the frustrated, disfigured musician, a terrifying monster shrouded in mystery who haunts the giant edifice.

Co-writers Eric Taylor and Samuel Hoffenstein authored the screen play from an adaptation by John Jacoby.

Musical score and direction by Edward Ward and the photography of Hal Mohr and W. Howard Greene are declared to be strikingly effective. The opera sequences were staged by William Von Wymetal and Lester Horton with choral direction by William Tyroler. Harold Zweifel and Arthur Schutt did the orchestrations.

"Phantom of the Opera," according to all indications, contains rare entertainment for almost every type of diversion seeker.

THE WAR MUST STILL BE WON

During the next hundred days, we face the most desperate and probably the most costly fight in our history as a Nation: a fight to invade the most heavily fortified coast in the world—a fight in which American boys will carry the brunt of the battle and undoubtedly suffer such casualties that a half a million American homes may be in mourning before it is done.

Bataan and Guadalcanal, Attu and Salerno, Tarawa and even that day of infamy and tragedy at Pearl Harbor will rank as only minor engagements, compared to the furious and deadly encounter that confronts us when General Eisenhower gives the signal and the invasion of France begins.

No words can possibly portray what our fighting men will go through during this climactic struggle to conquer Hitler's fortress—and the failure of the invasion attempt, apart from the tragic loss of life which it would entail, might well cost us the war. That our military leaders know, and even though they are confident of victory, they know, too, the risks involved—and the heartbreaking price we must pay. But we wonder, do the American people know?

Our war production, to be sure, has hit a peak; we have the tanks and the planes and the ships now. And if we don't falter in keeping it rolling to our fighting fronts, our men will have the best equipment that a great industrial Nation can give them. But we have only begun to fight; we still have the war to win—and when we see a constantly mounting outbreak of strikes in our key industries, with squabbles over who will get how much during 1944, we wonder if the American people are conscious of the fearful ordeal ahead of them.

It isn't pleasant to write such an editorial, but we still have a long, horrible Gethsemane before us—and we think it's time we faced it, and put aside selfish, petty squabbling for the duration, so that we won't be too unworthy and too ashamed when we look into the faces of the maimed and the dying.

BIG CLEANUP

We are going to have a big cleanup in 1944. Not only that, but everything is going to be ironed out, too.

How do we know? Well, 50,000 bathtubs can't be wrong—and that's the number that are going to be manufactured this year after nearly two years of bathtub-less production. The reason for stopping the output of tubs in 1942 was, of course, to save metal—not water.

As to the other pressing problem—that of electric irons—we're going to have millions of them—two millions to be exact. And they won't be rationed.

Anyway, the production plug has been pulled—and the heat is on!

UNSUNG ARMY

There's an unsung army in the U. S. A. of gallant men and women, who wear neither the G. I. garb of the armed forces, nor the work clothes of war plants; who boast no campaign ribbons, get no over-time and make no headlines—the "lost battalions" of Uncle Sam's all-but-forgotten white collar army.

There are 15,000,000 in this vast, vital army—15,000,000 men and women in the professions, in the arts and sciences, in offices and small stores, caught in the No Man's Land of soaring living costs and fixed incomes, but still battling quietly, if a bit grimly, to keep up their end in the battle for freedom.

Last week, Congress discovered them, when reports filtered in that thousands in this unsung, uncomplaining army are threatened with "impaired health and security." Actually, many have been disabled—either physically or economically—and the majority have managed to survive only at great personal sacrifice. But reports also show that they are still buying war bonds; still working long hours, with few holidays, in their over-loaded jobs and professions—and that very few, indeed, have had any wage boost since Pearl Harbor, or have much chance of getting one.

We have little hope that Congress either will or can do anything to fatten the paychecks of the army whose emblem is the frayed white collar. Because they are mostly rugged individualists and unorganized; they have no lobby at Washington, nor no bargaining agent at home. But when Congress is considering letting down the barriers to wage boosts for other more militant groups, it might well think of them. For every wage increase granted every other group increases the strain on this forgotten group, and reduces the buying power of their pre-war incomes. And every man enjoying boom war earnings might well think of them—before he asks for more.

Southern Pacific Rolls Up Record

A new all-time traffic record was rolled up by Southern Pacific in 1943 for the fourth year in succession, it was revealed by President A. T. Mercier in a review of the company's activities in the second year of the war. A further increase is expected in 1944, it was stated, and the railroad will need more manpower and equipment to handle the still heavier load.

"Our personnel met the severest tests in the company's history but came through victoriously in every undertaking in 1943," Mercier declared. "New records were achieved by the nearly 100,000 Southern Pacific men and women in spite of a growing manpower shortage, now around 10,000, and a stringency of equipment necessitating the most intense utilization of locomotives and cars."

With more than 14,000 former employes now in the armed forces, manpower is Southern Pacific's greatest problem, according to the announcement. Some 4,000 women were enrolled to do work formerly performed exclusively by men, and about 7,000 Mexican track workers imported, all efforts to recruit this labor in the United States having failed.

Heavier loading of freight cars, quick unloading at terminals, record-breaking upkeep of rolling stock, and further installations of Centralized Traffic Control to increase the capacity of single track were cited by Mercier among helpful factors in the handling of Southern Pacific's unprecedented traffic.

But the tremendous load in 1943 could not have been carried, he said, without the practical and substantial cooperation of commercial and military shippers, and the government. The generous aid of the press in helping to explain the wartime problems of the railroads was also of great value, the railroad president said.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

THERE was once a newspaperman who was invited to tea by a society dowager. His hostess looked at him wide-eyed as she tried to make him feel at ease. "It must be fascinating," she said, "to be a journalist. You meet such interesting people." According to legend, the newspaperman replied, "You certainly do. And they're all in the newspaper business."

ROBERT J. CASEY

"Such Interesting People" is the title of veteran reporter Robert J. Casey's book about his colleagues, a book rich in newspaper lore and legend. Mr. Casey started his newspaper career in Des Moines, Iowa, and for some years has been foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News.

Casey was copy reader on a Texas paper, when he received one of his earliest lessons in newspaper strategy. A story was put on his desk, which contained an item about a "large and destitoox family." Somewhere in the lead, Casey made mention that it was a "poor" family and there was a prompt howl from the folks who had received the publicity and a just as prompt inquiry by his city editor. "What makes you think this fine Texas family is impoverished?" he demanded. "The reporter said they were large and destitute," Casey said, showing him the original scrawl. The city editor examined it. "He says no such thing. He says they were 'destitoox'. Lesson No. One is: 'Never guess what a grapevine correspondent is thinking about when he uses words like 'destitoox.' "

Not all censors are as unreasonable as they are said to be, according to Mr. Casey. During the blitz in London, he wrote a story referring to "bombs bursting in air." The censor was upset. There hadn't been any bombs bursting in air, he said. And if they had burst in air, that would have implied some sort of time fuse that might well be a military secret. Patiently, Mr. Casey explained that this was a line from a song called "The Star Spangled Banner" and that most Americans would understand the reference. The censor cheerily removed his objection. "I'm getting more American every day," he commented.

self, when the telephone rang in the First Aid office and when I answered it, I was informed that a Lieutenant Clarence Parr was waiting at the main gate. We meet for the first time in over two years; he is in the Army Air Corps as a bombardier instructor and is stationed at Langley field, Virginia, about 500 miles from Camp Endicott, Davisville, Rhode Island where I am stationed. He made the trip so we could split a turkey together, which we didn't. We had steak instead but it sure was good.

"Just seeing him and being with a friend over Christmas did wonders for both of us. We talked over old times and the things we expect to do in the future.

"I may add here it was the best Christmas that I have spent in many a year. We both hope to spend our next Christmas in Dear Old Daly City. Even if we do have to put up with a little fog it is a lot better than living in the snow. Mickey to his friends, or Lieutenant Parr, is from San Francisco and was First Mate in my Sea Scout Ship for several years. He is well known in Daly City, because of his Scouting contacts."

Civilian Population Shows Gain In S. M.

Civilian population of San Mateo county for January, 1944, is 141,000, California Taxpayers' association estimated today. This is in an increase of about 29,200, or approximately 26 per cent, over the 111,782 people in the county when the 1940 census was taken, the association stated. Population of the county for January, 1943, was 138,000.

Population of the state is estimated at 8,014,000 for January, 1944, by the Taxpayers' organization. This is an increase of 1,007,000, or about 16 per cent, over the 6,907,387 people shown by the April, 1940, census. Population of the state a year ago was estimated at 7,795,000.

"Communities with large war industries have drained manpower and population from many California counties," the association found. "While two counties, Contra Costa and Solano, have more than doubled in population since the census, twenty-one counties are estimated to have a smaller population for January, 1944, than they had when the census was taken."

Fifteen counties, Alameda, Contra Costa, Inyo, Lassen, Los Angeles, Marin, Monterey, Napa, Orange, Riverside, San Diego, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo, Shasta and Solano, show increases in population of 15 per cent or more since the census, the association estimates.

Big ten counties in the state today, so far as population is concerned, are Los Angeles, 3,200,000 people; San Francisco, 690,000; Alameda, 625,000; San Diego, 407,000; Contra Costa, 220,000; Santa Clara, 195,000; Sacramento, 191,000; Fresno, 190,000; San Bernardino, 182,000; and Orange, 152,000.

"Post-war planning should recognize the return to their old homes of many of the people who have gone to war industry areas to work," the association pointed out. "In ordinary times the growth of population in California has been widespread, with nearly all areas showing increases. After victory, population of many inflated war centers can be expected to drop back toward normal."

Bank of America Gives Report On Yr.

Substantial increases in total resources, deposits and investments, as well as enhanced capital funds and an increase in surplus account, featured a record year of growth for Bank of America. This is reflected in the bank's statement of condition at the close of business December 31, 1943.

On December 15, surplus account was increased from $62,000,000 to $75,000,000 by the transfer of $13,000,000 from undivided profits account. As a result the bank's lending capacity is augmented in line with its increased volume of war productions loans.

Total resources, the statement shows, were $3,697,913,000, an increase of $926,223,000 over a year ago.

Deposits totalled $3,498,153,000, a gain of $912,013,000 during the year.

While loans and discounts outstanding at the year end, which aggregated $810,661,000, decreased $29,809,000, investments in securities, amounting to $2,095,433,000, increased $829,684,000 over the previous year end. Large purchases of U. S. Government securities accounted for approximately 97 per cent of this increase and brought the bank's total investment in these securities to $1,844,554,000.

Earnings for the year after operating expenses and accruals for taxes were $30,167,000. From this total, $5,801,000 was reserved for depreciation of bank premises and amortization of bond premiums, and $3,861,000 was set up in reserves and applied to the absorption of losses and the revaluation of assets.

1944 Registration Renewal Season Opens For Drivers

The 1944 vehicle registration renewal season opened Monday morning, January 3, at the San Francisco office of the Department of Motor Vehicles at 160 South Van Ness avenue.

The amount of the fee due, together with the 1943 registration card must be presented. Fees are payable over the counters in cash, postal or bank money orders or certified checks. Personal checks are not accepted.

The applicant may determine the amount due by adding together the figures appearing near the lower right hand corner of the registration card under "Regis. Fee and License Fee." If these figures do not appear on the card and the amount due is not indicated on the lower left hand corner of the registration card following the words "Total Fee 1944," the applicant should consult charts placed at all service stations.

If the applicant has moved during the year he should cross out the old address on his registration card and carefully print in the new address. If he has completed payments on his car during the year he should bring in his certificate of ownership (pink slip), properly endorsed by the owner of record, and an additional fee of $1 for the transfer.

Windshield stickers will be issued in lieu of license plates as evidence of registration renewal. Vehicle owners should note carefully the instructions for affixing the sticker to the glass in the lower right hand corner of the windshield.

Local residents unable to make a trip to the nearby office for registration renewal may mail their fees and 1943 registration cards to the Department of Motor Vehicles at 160 South Van Ness avenue, San Francisco, 3.

Applications may be mailed from any part of the State to the Sacramento office but it is advisable for the applicant to send his application to the office nearest his residence. Do not send currency! Mail postal or bank money orders or certified checks for fees due.

Applications not in correct order will be returned to the sender.

Penalties will be due on 1944 registration renewal fees after midnight of February 4.

Rationing Board Has Anniversary

The Office of Price Administration observed the second anniversary of the establishment of its local War Price and Rationing Boards, yesterday, January 5, 1944, according to Monsignor Egisto Tozzi, chairman of War Price and Rationing Board No. 83-12-3, which serves the Daly City area.

"On the date," Monsignor Tozzi said, "76,000 members of 5,500 local boards had completed two years of unpaid service to their nation at war."

"In addition to the 76,000 board members," Monsignor Tozzi declared, "approximately 200,000 volunteers have worked without thought of compensation to make the rationing and price control program of the OPA function in the field."

He said that the anniversary was marked by the presentation of service scrolls to 100,000 volunteers who had contributed 100 or more hours. The certificates were signed by Chester Bowles, OPA administrator.

Among those receiving the service scrolls in the local rationing board area, Monsignor Tozzi said, were: Mrs. Myra R. Spangler, 210 Eucalyptus avenue, South

Telephone Co. Head Comments On War

N. R. Powley, president of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, in commenting on the company's affairs in connection with the release of dividend checks for the fourth quarter, made Friday, December 31, paid tribute to the millions of American youth on the war front, to the telephone men and women who fight shoulder to shoulder with them, and to the general public.

"This Yuletide Season brings more than ever to us the full realization of the presence on the war front of the millions of our American youth—boys and girls—who are fighting to save and to keep secure all that makes for life itself.

"To these boys and girls and to our telephone men and women who fight shoulder to shoulder with them, we, the directors, officers and all members of our telephone family on the home front, bow in admiration and assure them not only of our grateful appreciation, but also of our deep sense of obligation to be worthy of the sacrifices they are so courageously and so effectively making to take our great Nation through to the supreme Victory which is so surely to be ours.

"Our Christmas Greetings and Good Wishes for the New Year to our far-flung fighting forces carry with them our reassurance that we will steadfastly so serve on the home front that we will help the more to build a better world—On Earth Peace, Good Will Toward Men.

"The past year, with its many perplexing problems, has been one of the most active and strenuous periods ever experienced by our company. Accustomed as it is to rising to all emergencies, our organization met the challenge creditably and effectively. No task was too difficult. Notwithstanding the fact that as the year progressed our men and women had "more to do with less to do it with," they, nevertheless, gave full expression to their high resolve to overcome all difficulties by their splendid performance in "taking the message through." We take justifiable pride in the accomplishments of our personnel who have outstandingly exemplified their devotion to duty and high morale throughout a most trying and critical year.

"With toll and Long Distance traffic at unprecedented peak volumes, the public, in encountering service difficulties due to wartime restrictions and overcrowded circuits, has been most sympathetic and understanding in its cooperation. Service criticisms were the lowest of record. The company gratefully acknowledges and deeply appreciates the aid and assistance rendered by our customers during the past year which has been an important contribution to the company's all out war effort."

Their fallen comrade, with whom they journeyed thousands of miles into the Southwest Pacific, gave his life fighting that liberty might be preserved in the country he called home.

WAR FOOD ADMINISTRATION

Rationing Board Has Anniversary

San Francisco, and Mrs. Thelma Hickman, 425 Mariposa street, Brisbane.

On the rationing front, Monsignor Tozzi gave additional details on major steps in a new OPA program to go into effect in 1944 for commercial and institutional eating places.

He said the plan will accomplish a more equitable distribution of food to commercial eating places.

Under the new plan, he said:

1. The food allotment for such establishments will be based solely on the number of persons served food. Servings of alcoholic and soft drinks, milk drinks, coffee, and the like will no longer be included for that purpose.

2. Rations for refreshments will be based on the number of servings of refreshments alone.

Monsignor Tozzi also revealed that violators still are a constant problem to the OPA. He said that "unfortunately, among a small minority of people the mood of common sharing of sacrifices made necessary by the war has been displaced by an attitude reminiscent of Prohibition days, when violators were not only tolerated but given active public support."

Bank of America Gives Report On Yr.

$2.40 per share on the common stock and $2 per share on the preferred stock, and after a profit sharing bonus of $1,328,000 to employees, capital funds were increased from earnings for the year by $8,765,000.

At the end of the year capital funds, including reserves, totalled $166,385,000 after utilization of $2,782,500 to retire 55,650 shares of preferred stock during the year, reflecting an increase of $5,983,000 in capital funds over the previous year end.

During the year $1,845,000 was added to the reserve for war contingencies, which at the year end totalled $13,919,000.

President L. M. Giannini commented that while the Bank of America was serving in the present emergency with every available facility, the management was engaged in concrete forward planning for the postwar period. "We are determined," he said, "to provide every possible banking aid for stabilizing California's industrial, agricultural and commercial activities so that a high rate of employment may be maintained."

How're Your Hospital Manners?

If you have a friend or relative in the hospital in this "peak illness" period, the best way to insure proper care is to see that you and other visitors don't take the time of nurses or hospital personnel.

Because of wartime personnel shortages, the services of nurses and other hospital workers must be devoted to patients only, the Health council of the Community Chest of San Francisco warns.

The Health council recommends these rules for friends and relatives of hospital patients:

1. Make your visits short—within regular visiting hours. Don't ask to be admitted at other hours. Make a nice, chatty letter substitute for a visit whenever possible.

2. Don't call the overburdened hospital switchboard for reports on the patient, and especially don't ask to speak to the nurse in charge of the case. Set up a clearing house for inquiries about the patient at your own home.

3. Don't send large bouquets of cut flowers. Limit your floral gifts to small bouquets or plants which require little care. Better still, wait until the patient returns home to send flowers.

4. Leave young children at home. They are a strain on the patient and often take the time of hospital personnel.

5. Don't ask for a guest tray even if you are a close relative permitted to remain at the bedside. Slip out to a nearby restaurant for your meal and save the ration points and the services of hospital employees for the patients.

6. Figure out how you might help San Francisco to maintain adequate hospital services in wartime, either by training and serving as a nurse's aide, or by sorting linen, setting trays in the pantry, distributing mail or helping with the circulating library. Men volunteers are needed, too, as orderlies and maintenance workers. Many hospitals are recruiting part-time paid assistants in non-nursing positions.

Bureau Advises

Property owners were warned today by the Better Business bureau to investigate the reliability of carpenters before paying cash deposits on remodeling jobs. According to the bureau, several complaints have been received concerning a man who quoted low prices on remodeling, then collected sizeable sums, stating he needed advance funds for the purchase of materials. That is the last the property owner sees of the "carpenter".

The Better Business bureau pointed out that reputable carpenters will not object to investigation.

Announce Plans To Assist Russia

Participation in a nation-wide $21,000,000 relief program in 1944 was announced today by Parker S. Maddux, treasurer of the Northern California Committee of Russian War Relief, Inc.

The national goal, one-third higher than the 1943 budget, breaks down into cash purchases made possible by a $9,000,000 appropriation anticipated from the National War Fund and gifts in kind expected to reach $12,000,000.

Medical supplies and clothing will comprise the bulk of purchased goods. Gifts in kind, for which collections will continue on a nationwide basis, include used clothing, vegetable seed, watches, medical textbooks and instruments. A new campaign will be launched soon for 3,000,000 family utility kits.

Bay area committees will concentrate on the production of new clothing made from material furnished by the national headquarters, Maddux revealed, but will continue with intensive collection of good used clothing and shoes and will participate in other nation-wide campaigns.

Recent cables from Moscow, supported by Carter's observations, indicate that relief needs increase tremendously with the recapture of German-held territory, where cities have been reduced to rubble and looted.

Prune Dainty

By Frances Lee Barton

THE humble prune is not so humble today as it once was. In many homes it's a rare treat.

Don't stew your complete supply. Save a cupful for a prune nut loaf that may be sliced and served as a real surprise. You'll surely repeat the following recipe if you try it once.

Prune Nut Loaf

3 cups sifted flour; 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ¾ teaspoon salt; ½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed; ½ cup chopped nut meats; 1 cup finely cut prunes; 1 egg, well beaten; 1 cup milk; 4 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add sugar and mix well. Add nuts and prunes. Combine egg, milk, and shortening; add to flour mixture and blend. Bake in greased loaf pan, 9 x 5 x 3-inches, in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 hour, or until done. Store overnight or for several hours before slicing.

Our boys must keep on fighting—we must keep on buying WAR BONDS until victory is won. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

de Young Museum Displays Costumes

Proud of its excellent and complete collection of costumes and accessories of the nineteenth century, the de Young Museum, Golden Gate park, is now offering its visitors the opportunity to admire new acquisitions to it, plus certain former ones which have not been displayed for a long time. What with the recent stress in literature and motion pictures on the period during the second half of the nineteenth century, the public will be especially interested to see the originals of women's apparel—"models" for their copies on the screen. Incidentally, the de Young's costume collection ranks second only to the famous one in the nation's capital.

In the present show, of particular interest are two light summer dresses of the 60's and 70's, outstanding examples of the mode of the day and rarities in that seldom is this type of gown seen nowadays, most women having kept, for sentimental reasons, their wedding gowns or formal evening dresses only. The exhibit features also hats, shawls, wraps and evening capes—climax of the show being the ones worn at the Midwinter fair by the late Mrs. M. H. de Young.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCELS IN HOSPITALITY

San Francisco, handling 70 per cent of all embarkations to the Pacific Theatre and carrying a greater load on its facilities than any other large American city, still equals and in many cases excels in hospitality to the nation's armed forces, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce announced, this week.

According to a report to the chamber from the Convention and Tourist bureau, almost three-fourths of all servicemen bound for the Pacific front, in which America has the largest fighting force of the major period of war, embark from San Francisco.

Representatives of 26 American city convention bureaus have agreed that the city's facilities, such as hotels, taxicabs, restaurants, streetcars, utilities, laundries, and groceries are carrying the greatest load of any other large U. S. city in proportion to the amount they are accustomed to bear.

In spite of this burden, San Francisco ranks with the nation's cities in hospitality to servicemen in the following ways: in public, private, and organization contribution, San Francisco leads. The city itself has appropriated $180,000 to provide 3000 additional beds for transient uniformed men and women. Of these, 2,446 have long been in operation and the balance will be available soon. Each dormitory in this group provides a bed and breakfast at no more than 50 cents, which in no case covers the whole cost of the provision of beds, linens and services attending.

At railway terminals, the Red Cross Motor corps and the Travelers' Aid USO regularly provide servicemen with free motor trips around the city during stop-over hours. San Francisco is probably the only city offering this service at the present time.

One other city—Chicago—has larger individual USO clubs, but San Francisco has a variety of clubs conveniently spaced throughout the downtown section. These clubs placed under one roof would constitute a servicemen's center 25 stories high with each floor devoted continually to hospitality to both men and women in armed forces.

San Francisco hotels provide room rent reduction of 25 per cent to uniformed men. This rate is not exceeded by any American city of comparable size. Every San Francisco theatre and municipally sponsored musical organization provides free and reduced rate tickets at every performance to large blocks of servicemen.

Hospitality house in the Civic center provides outdoor recreation as well as an interior club with nightly dancing, and dinner invitations for servicemen listed at USO houses and Hospitality houses always exceed the number of men interested in visiting a private home.

Housing Center Short On Listings

"During the past month, we tried to take care of 1486 applicants for rooms or family dwellings in our Burlingame and Palo Alto War Housing centers. We were able to place only 197 of these applicants, having to disappoint 1289," said Manager Louis Lengfeld of the San Mateo County War Housing center, this week.

"As the emphasis changes from the war in Europe to the war in the Pacific, we will be called upon to place more and more essential workers, especially in the transportation field, and more servicemen and their families. There is no sign that the crucial housing shortage in this vicinity can be alleviated by new building. Enough critical materials cannot be spared. The only way people vitally needed here can be housed is by the full cooperation of the citizens of this community. Anyone having an extra furnished room close to transportation, or knowing of any such room which is for rent, would help in the war effort by notifying the War Housing center either at 1108 Burlingame avenue, Burlingame, or 464 University avenue, Palo Alto," he concluded.

The old type of supplemental coupon, of course, is only good for 3 gallons.

Here's how to make certain whether you have a coupon of the new type. All coupons, worth 5 gallons, have B-2 or C-2 very clearly printed on the face. However, the old type supplemental mileage coupon—worth only 3 gallons—has either B, B-1, C or C-1 printed on the face.

HEALTH REPORT

According to the San Mateo County Department of Public Health and Welfare there were three cases of chicken pox, one of mumps, six of whooping cough, and one of rheumatic fever in Daly City, for the week ending December 18.

SEWING CLUB

Members of the sewing club of Vista Grande Camp No. 6035, Royal Neighbors of America, will meet at the home of their new president, Mrs. Emilie Twesten, 306A Knowles avenue, Tuesday evening, January 11.

The camp itself will hold its regular business meeting, tomorrow night, January 7, at Eagles hall, starting at 8 o'clock. Plans will be made for the installation ceremonies to be held, Friday, January 21, when new leaders of the organization will officially take their positions.

ABOUT TOKENS

Retail grocery and meat market operators today were warned by the Office of Price Administration to file estimates of "ration token" requirements not later than Saturday, January 8.

The fibre tokens will be used in the present food and meat rationing operations, and all retailers will be required to have a stock on hand when the new program goes into effect the latter part of February.

Application forms may be obtained at all trade association headquarters, National Cash Register offices and through most wholesale supply firms. In San Francisco the Retail Grocers association is located at 525 Market street.

The forms, filled out, must be filed by the dealer at his bank not later than Saturday. All dealers, regardless of whether they have 'ration bank' accounts, must file, OPA said.

Boy Scout Troop 141 In Saturday Broadcast

Boy Scout Troop No. 141, Daly City, represented the San Francisco Boy Scout council in a radio broadcast, Saturday evening, January 1, over Station KYA. Leslie Bock and Raymond Lagomarsino were the scouts participating in the conversational-type program. They recounted the history, activities and ambitions of their troop and presented a number of suggested New Year's resolutions.

Troop No. 141 boys who went to the East-West game as ushers were Scouts Robert Thompson, Leslie Bock, Edward Smith, Raymond Lagomarsino, and Scoutmaster Joseph Straughan. Colorbearers in the pageant from the local group included Scouts Jacob Hummel and Donald Heisenbuttel (a visitor from Troop No. 48) and Cubs Roger Lilo and George Ritter. The cubs carried the church colors of Grace Church of the Nazarene.

they lacked any address whatever, while the remaining 7 per cent bore obsolete addresses.

Loss of ration books not only causes inconvenience to the loser but also adds to the workloads of local boards at which applications for replacement are received and handled. Many more lost books could be returned if the holders filled in their addresses and kept them up to date. Every holder of a ration book, OPA urges, should make certain that his current address is plainly written in the space provided for that purpose on the cover.

BOND DRIVE

Jeff students hope to start the New Year off right by making their next bond drive the best yet. They will have to work twice as hard as they are 'way behind in the quota for the P-38. Their next drive will be at the same time as the Fourth War Loan drive. The boy-and-girl competition was such a success, last time, that the same plan will be featured in this drive.

The students could also use the help of cooperative outsiders, too!

ABOUT SCHOOL

When students went to their gym classes on Monday they were surprised to find the gym floor had been cleared of all marks. Once again it looked like new.

Students were glad to have Mr. Bogart, janitor, back again after his recent illness. While he was out the students presented him with a $25 War bond.

In Monday's assembly students were shown two films. One concerned the manufacturing of bombers. The other was a film produced by Walt Disney dealing with the destruction of the Anopheles mosquito and the prevention of malaria. In the film the seven dwarfs were featured.

When the students came back after vacation they naturally were asking everyone what they had received for Christmas. The most popular items, this year, seemed to be engagement rings, lockets, and watches.

JUNIOR PINS

There were smiles on the faces of the juniors this week because of the arrival of the long-awaited junior pins. They are the same as last year's.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Brush, 211 Hillcrest drive, Daly City, are the proud parents of a son born, December 27, in San Francisco.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

"THE battlefield was an incongruous thing. Always there was some ridiculous impingement of normalcy on a field of battle. There on that day it was the Arabs. They were herding their camels, just as usual. Some of them continued to plow their fields. Children walked along, driving their little sack-laden burros, as tanks and guns clanked past them. The sky was filled with planes and smoke burst from screaming shells."

ERNIE PYLE

Now that the North African campaign is over, a number of excellent books are coming out to give us an all-over picture of this dramatic period in the war's history. One of the best is "Here Is Your War" by Ernie Pyle, from which the above is quoted. Ernie Pyle is an A-1 correspondent, and he writes with an eye for detail, a sense of humor, and an understanding heart.

Among the many dramatic stories is the one about the crippled Fortress that came in on two engines at sunset, after all the airfield had given up hope for her. "All of us stood tense," writes Ernie Pyle, "hardly remembering anyone else was there. With all our nerves we seemed to pull the plane toward us. I suspect a photograph would have shown us all leaning slightly to the left. Not one of us thought the plane would ever make the field, but on it came—so slowly that it was cruel to watch."

Ernie Pyle landed first in Oran, and there he was witness to the American soldiers' really amazing gift of fraternization. They got along even if they didn't know a word of French or Arabic. "A really comic sight was one of our boys standing on the street with an English-French dictionary in his hand, talking to a girl and looking up each word as he spoke it."

Among the most welcome visitors in North Africa, says Mr. Pyle, were the four stage and screen stars—Carole Landis, Mitzi Mayfair, Kay Francis and Martha Raye—who arrived under the auspices of the USO. He is full of praise for the bravery and fortitude of these girls. "They had heard bombs fall, and they knew about army stew. They averaged four hours' sleep a night. . . . To say they were appreciated is putting it mildly." Incidentally, Carole Landis has just completed the story of the tour she made with her three companions. Titled, "Four Jills in a Jeep," it will appear first in the Saturday Evening Post, and later as a book.

The Book-of-the-Month Club selection for February will be "Der Fuehrer," by Konrad Heiden. "Der Fuehrer," which traces the life of the world's number one Nazi and the history of National Socialism from their origins, is reported to be a lengthy and authoritative work that has all the fascination of a novel.

Julia tells- How to bake simple old-fashioned "Goodies"

NOW that we're starting out on a new year, it's not a bad idea to look back at some of the simple things our "foremothers" used to bake. Meat pies—apple pandowdies—hearty dishes of that good old-fashioned stripe. (And there are ways to get along with much less shortening than in many a "modern" recipe!)

I've been putting some of those time-honored recipes to the test in my own kitchen, recently, and as I watched the results disappear into my family's interested mouths, two facts came to mind: first, these foods are appetizing and nutritious, and second, they require relatively little of some ingredients which aren't always in plentiful supply these war-time days.

The second point really appealed to the practical in me. That, and the fact that these things are surprisingly easy to prepare. How long since you've tried making a meat pie with biscuits instead of crust, for example?

Curry Biscuits for Meat Pie

1 cup enriched flour
1½ tsps. baking powder
¾ tsp. curry powder
2 tbsps. chilled shortening
⅛ to ⅓ cup milk
¼ tsp. salt

Sift flour, measure, add baking powder, salt and curry powder, and sift again. Add shortening to flour and cut in until mixture is fine. Add milk, stir until flour is dampened. Knead 15 times on lightly floured board, roll to ⅜-in. thickness. Cut with 1¾-in. biscuit cutter and place on hot stew in casserole. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 25 mins. or until done.

An interesting variation is to cut the biscuit dough in the shape of doughnuts, which lets the stew bubble up through the inner circles. Sound good? It tastes good!

And for dessert, how my family enjoyed old-fashioned apple pandowdy! (I wasn't at all sorry to see that, because it uses just about one-quarter as much shortening as pie!)

Apple Pandowdy

5 cups thinly sliced apples
½ cup sugar
⅛ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. cinnamon
⅛ tsp. nutmeg
1½ tsps. lemon juice
2 tbsps. water
¼ tsp. grated lemon rind

Combine apples, sugar, salt, spices, lemon juice, water and rind. Turn into pan (8 x 8 x 2); cover and bake in hot oven (450° F.) 20 mins. Mix 2 cups standard biscuit dough, adding 1 tbsp. sugar to flour mixture. Knead gently 8 times, shape and roll into square (8 x 8). Fit dough over apples in pan, cut slits to let steam escape, and return to hot oven (450° F.). Bake 25 mins. or until crust is browned. Serve warm, with cream or plain. Makes 8 servings.

Sundaes For Sunday

Sugar may be scarce at your home these days. Perhaps your supply of other "sweets" is hardly worth mentioning. But the family still has a sweet tooth and you hear a constant call for dessert.

Necessity is the mother of invention. Prove your own inventive ability during war days by locating substitutes for many of your old food favorites.

Here's a dessert that should please. No sugar is needed. The rennet-custard is already sweetened and the crushed peppermint stick candy does its bit toward catering to that "sweet tooth".

And a dessert of this kind furnishes liberal quantities of milk to those tiny tots who refuse to drink plain milk, yet need this food so much.

Chocolate Sundae Rennet-Custard
2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package vanilla rennet powder
Chocolate sauce
Peppermint stick candy

Set out 4 or 5 sherbet glasses. Warm the milk until just lukewarm (110° F.), not hot. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. Remove from heat and immediately stir in the rennet powder until dissolved — not more than 1 minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into the sherbet glasses and let stand at room temperature, without moving, for about 10 minutes, or until firm. Then place in refrigerator to chill.

Prepare a chocolate sauce by melting sweet milk chocolate in a double boiler and blending with enough cream to make a thick sauce consistency (about ¼ cup cream to 3 ounces chocolate). Cool, and just before serving, pour a pool of chocolate sauce into the center of each rennet-custard. Then sprinkle crushed peppermint stick candy over the chocolate sauce, and serve immediately. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

High School PTA Board Meets Today

Today at noon, January 6, the executive board of Jefferson Union High School P. T. A. will hold a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Ida Hanley, 43 Woodrow street.

Mrs. Martha Linden and Mrs. Ida Forest are hostesses for the day.

BROWN POINTS FOR WASTE FATS

For every pound of fat a housewife turns in to her meat dealer or other fat salvager, she receives two brown points, beginning December 13. "But most important," Herbert M. Faust, director of WPB's Salvage division said, "within a month the fat will be transformed into war materials and on the way to the fighting fronts." He reminded housewives to save the grease from turkeys, geese, ducks, and chickens, for the manufacture of war products.

Value of taxable property in San Mateo county this fiscal year averages $971 for each of the 141,000 people in the county at January 1, 1944, California Taxpayers' association stated today, making public its study of per capita assessed values of property in California counties. Total assessed value of property in the county is $136,889,109 for 1943-44.

Per capita assessed values in the county for the 1942-43 fiscal year averaged $959 for the 138,000 people in the county at January 1, 1943, the association found. Total assessed valuation for 1942-43 was $132,353,035.

Total assessed value of taxable property in California is $7,886,224,624. For 1942-43, per capita assessed values averaged $985 each for the 7,795,000 people in the state at January 1, 1943; total assessed value of property in the state for fiscal 1942-43 was $7,679,695,379.

Pace-Setting Suit

BACKBONE of limited wardrobes a dressmaker suit which adapts itself to several hat and blouse combinations. Rich brown wool was chosen by CBS news reporter Bernardine Flynn for an ensemble which takes on the duties of a dress when buttoned up and worn with decorative costume jewelry or a flower to accent the colorful pheasant trimming of her smooth-brow hat. Individuality of tailoring is shown in the simple, unpressed folds of the skirt front, formed by a fitted yoke of short pleats stitched from the inside to give a flat finish.

Folies Bergere Add Performances

Saturday midnight shows and Sunday matinees have been added to the regular schedule of the Folies Bergere at Winterland, in San Francisco.

The late Saturday shows start half an hour after midnight, while the Sunday matinees commence at 2 p. m. The special shows are in addition to regular nightly performances at 8 p. m. and are complete with cast of 120, including international stars and 80 beautiful girls.

Clifford C. Fischer has blended sophisticated French comedy with roaring slapstick, and the gay and daring Can-Can with exquisite ballet in what he terms the "greatest of all Folies Bergeres."

Fun for the whole family on Sunday afternoon is promised by the Folies' company. which includes famous vaudeville stars, dancers, and acrobats. Dazzling dance sequences star saucy Malcia and her delightful French dances, lovely Grace Poggi, prima ballerina Jeanne Devereaux, Sirki, Carlos Valadez, Rem Olmsted, and the Pickerts, who tap dance on stilts.

The world-known Cristiani family thrill children and adults with their daring acrobatic and bareback riding. Monroe and Grant bounce on the trampoline; the Shyrettos ride their high one-wheel cycles; and the famous Truzzi juggles plates, silver balls, Indian clubs and lighted torches. Ardelty, the Russian Bird of Paradise, performs daring feats on a trapeze.

Well-known comedy dancers Barto and Mann delight with their burlesque ballet, and Willie West and McGinty, clown carpenters, keep crowds laughing with their antics.

Movie Comedian Charles Judell, as emcee, radiates merriment throughout the dazzling finale.

Leaders Express Views To Anderson

Strong support of the position taken by Congressman John Z. Anderson in opposition to farm subsidies and to price roll-backs in the form of subsidy payments to food producers, is expressed in a wire sent today to Representative Anderson by agricultural leaders of three counties. The action resulted from a tri-county meeting, held for the purpose of discussing the subsidy question, under auspices of the Central Coast Council of the California State Chamber of Commerce.

The telegram to Congressman Anderson said, in part: "We the undersigned believe that we represent substantially the farming and farm processing interests of the Eighth Congressional district, and that we have sufficient marbles in the game to be heard on farm subsidies. Therefore we express our appreciation of your anti-subsidy position, and ask you to continue the good fight, first on patriotic grounds of honest resistance to inflation, and second on business grounds to avoid regimentation over American farming.

"As a suggestion for reduction of cost of living we recommend Congress make a study of rationing and urge release of commodities from rationing to eliminate known food surpluses on housewives shelves."

Joining in the telegram were agricultural leaders and processors of farm products from the counties of San Mateo, Santa Clara, and San Benito.

Pastel Art

RESERVED FOR INFORMAL after-five occasions, pastel gowns lend flattering background to the fall fashion scene. At a recent tea in New York's famous Palm Court of the Plaza Hotel, CBS actress Peggy ("We Love and Learn") Knudsen drew admiring attention with a slender, fitted crepe of Heaven blue, the portrait neckline of which was embroidered in rich antique gold bugle and seed pearl beads. (From J. J. Jones, New York.)

To Open Rent Control Office

Plans for the opening of a branch rent control office in Burlingame to serve most of San Mateo county were announced today by Henry Cross, district rent executive in the San Francisco District Office of Price Administration.

The branch office will be opened, January 9, with Mrs. Agnes Hoover as rent receiving clerk in charge. Headquarters will be maintained in the Burlingame War Price and Rationing board, 1300 Burlingame avenue. The unit will serve all of San Mateo county, south from San Bruno, including Redwood City and San Mateo.

Residents of Pescadero and Half Moon Bay will now bring their rent control matters into the Burlingame office instead of the San Jose branch headquarters. However, Daly City and South San Francisco will continue to be served by the San Francisco District office headquarters on rent control problems.

Mrs. Hoover will receive registrations, tenants' complaints, landlords' petitions for adjustment or for certificates relating to eviction, and generally discuss the rent control regulations with landlords and tenants.

LUCCA MEAT MARKET

HOURS: 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Ration points and dollars buy more meat when you spend them with a reliable, conscientious dealer. Prime quality and cuts "made to your order" have been standards upon which were built our successful meat department, and which mean more to your advantage today than ever before. Let LUCCA'S MEAT MARKET help solve your food problem.

In spite of wartime difficulties, we do maintain delivery service for feeds where it is impossible for the customer to carry home his purchases. We do this as a patriotic effort, one of our ways in which to keep the home front "clicking" while our men are fighting "out there."

However, we must ask that whenever possible, feeds be picked up at our store. Please do not ask us to unnecessarily expend vital manpower and transportation to carry these purchases. Doing your part in this will be a great favor to us, as well as aiding the war effort.
